FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Destin, Fl. (December 3, 2009) – No stranger to the Sinfonia stage, Caroline Goulding, who just last week won first prize in New York City's prestigious Young Concert Artists Competition, returns to Destin on Sunday, January 3 to perform the works from her just announced GRAMMY-nominated CD in the category: Best Instrumental Soloist Performance (without orchestra).

Her self-titled debut album: a "marvelous recital of virtuoso morsels" according to the Cleveland Plain Dealer, includes music by Corigliano, Vieuxtemps, Kreisler, Schoenfield, Gershwin and traditional Cape Breton Island fiddling; it features pianists Christopher O'Riley and Janine Randall.

Included on the album are John Corigliano's "Red Violin Caprices" for solo violin. After hearing the recording Corigliano commented; "At age 16, she gives a totally individual interpretation to my music. I think she will shortly become a very famous young woman, and only hope that she gives my other violin works a glance."

Caroline will sign copies of the CD following the performance. For more information on Caroline Goulding, please visit www.CarolineGoulding.com

Tickets are $22.50 and patrons may purchase and print tickets from the convenience of their home or office at www.SinfoniaGulfCoast.org or call the box office at 850-269-7129. Sinfonia Gulf Coast...your symphony experience redefined.
